

Enter a store. Ask a person working there what object in the store they would buy with the amount of money you have decided to spend. Buy that object and give it to them.

Can works be made which are not "of art."? —